Elites and Expansion: The Case of Tarquinii/ Tarchna, c. 400-250 BCE

VORTRAG

Roman Roth

(Classics Section, School of Languages and Literatures, University of Cape Town, South Africa)

Di, 19. März 2024, 18 Uhr s. t.

The southern Etruscan city of Tarquinia (etr. Tarchna/lat. Tarquinii) is known both for its location and for its archaeological evidence and inscriptions, thus offering a rare insight into a non-Roman context of central Italian city states. In this lecture, the ambitious territorial expansion of Tarquinia in the late 5th and 4th century BCE will be discussed. It also deals with Tarquinia's failure, which can only be inadequately and at best indirectly explained by the rise of Rome.

Der Vortrag findet am Institut für Klassische Archäologie in 1190 Wien, Franz Klein-Gasse 1, 1. Stock, Seminarraum 12, statt.
